

SEPA Webinar Request for Proposals

SEPA will begin offering a series of webinars in 2009. Our goal is to provide high quality professional development at a low cost to participants. In order to provide the highest quality sessions, we need your expertise. Proposals from SEPA members on a variety of topics in STEM education are now being accepted. The deadline for the first set of applications is January 6th, 2010. Webinar proposals will be reviewed and vetted. Applicants will be informed by January 30th of the decision of the selection committee. All webinar topics and dates will be posted on the SEPA website at www.sepamembers.org

Presenters will be compensated for their time based on a scale related to participation in the event. Interested PAs should fill out the following information and submit it along with a Power Point to be used during the webinar and current CV or resume to Kathy Renfrew at Kathy.Renfrew@state.vt.us
